

The rules about having to get permission from paid members of an association to fax or e-mail them are absurd. By the fact that members have joined the association, they have indicated there desire to receive information from the association by, mail, fax, e-mail and telephone. If they do not want to receive said information, all they need do is notify the association. Please restore the prior business relationship ability to communicate with our members.